ARTISTS AT WORK
CREATIVITY AND CHAOS AHEAD

A studio tour of artists at work

Lori Adams
Photography

During this year's ARTmostNY event, I will either (or both) be printing and/or working with a still life. Creating the still lives requires space and often results in disorder and a bit of chaos, which is why shooting while having the studio open is challenging. Because I often work with long exposures and controlled lighting, working in daytime alters the photo because of the natural light that comes in during the day

Donna Castelluccio
Mixed Media

During the ARTmostNY tour this year, I will be starting a fabric book. Sat will be the basic bones and then the fun begins. The theme – Alice in Wonderland. I'm so excited about it, I hope I can wait until you get here.

Bob Madden
Stone Sculptor

During the ARTmostNY tour this year, I'm going to start from a block of soapstone and create a set of rings. It's an aggressive project to do over a single weekend but over the years I've gotten so many questions about how this is done, I'd like to share it with the ARTmostNY visitors.

Tilly Strauss Painter		During the ARTmostNY tour this year, working in acrylic on 9” oval wood panels, I will be painting the final, and 40th. panel in a series of family tree portraits. Enjoy a refreshment, browse through the collection and watch me paint!	55 Haight Rd. Amenia, NY 845.489.3264 tillystudio@aol.com www.tillystudio.com Instagram- tillystrauss
Julian Strauss		Over the ARTmostNY weekend, Julian will be working on his line of maple wood spoons. Everyone enjoys a spoon full of syrup, so this makes perfect sense. His creations are works of art.	55 Haight Rd. Amenia, NY 12501 845.373.9587 jmsvet@aol.com
Brian Wohrman Metal / Wood Sculptor		During the ARTmostNY tour this Year, I will be working on an outdoor steel geometric piece that will compliment any landscape. I am also planning a piece in wood that I will alternate working on with the steel piece during the tour. One thing that I love is to be able to showcase sculptures in the landscape, I find that many people have a hard time picturing how something will look in a setting with the proper lighting.	2178 Route 55 LaGrangeville NY 12540 845 391 2140 Brianwohrman@gmail.com www.BrianWohrman.com Instagram- Brianwohrman
